First Year is Only the Beginning: Explore Your Next Steps

ACADEMIC JOURNEYS WEEK PAGES ARE LIVE!

Friday, March 12th | College of Business
- Miss something from last time? Join firstyear@nd.edu to see what's new!
- “Business Journeys” is the semester’s premiere event in which first-year students engage with members of Notre Dame’s scholarly community to learn more about what it means to major, learn about the College of Business, and hear from Notre Dame Business alumni.
- The Business Journeys will attract attendees from all corners of Notre Dame, so don’t pass up this opportunity to speak with experts in your field.

Saturday, March 13th | College of Science
- Join the College of Science to speak with Juniors and Seniors about the curriculum, and find out more information about possible academic paths.
- Your academic journey will be enriched by exploration! So don’t miss out on the opportunity to visit with faculty, staff, and upperclassmen, ask questions, and find out more information about possible academic paths.
- Attendees will have an opportunity to visit with faculty, staff, and upperclassmen, ask questions, and find out more information about possible academic paths.

Sunday, March 14th | Integrative Journeys
- During Academic Journeys Week, advisors can answer questions, make recommendations, and help college students plan their next steps.
- Advisors can answer questions, make recommendations, and help college students plan their next steps.
- Don’t miss this opportunity to speak with expert faculty, compare possible majors and minors, and find out more information about opportunities to expand learning beyond the classroom.

JOIN FOR NEW OPPORTUNITIES EACH NIGHT!

Monday, March 8th | College of Arts and Letters
- How it works: Participate in an evening of interactive discussions and group explorations. Hosts are eager to meet you, answer questions, and help you find a journey that best suits you.
- The College of Arts and Letters provides a wide range of liberal arts courses, ensuring a strong foundation and broad education.
- Hosts are eager to meet you, answer questions, and help you find a journey that best suits you.

Tuesday, March 9th | College of Science
- Each Zoom meeting will be different, so feel free to browse and connect with groups you want to visit using individual Zoom meeting links during the group’s allotted date and time block! During the group’s Zoom meeting, you will have an opportunity to visit with faculty, staff, and upperclassmen, ask questions, and find out more information about possible academic paths.
- The College of Science offers over 43 majors, which are truly the “central sciences,” and discuss what it means to major in each.
- Hosts are eager to meet you, answer questions, and help you find a journey that best suits you.

Wednesday, March 10th | College of Engineering
- If you are interested in engineering, check out the College of Engineering, which offers over 60 majors.
- Hosts are eager to meet you, answer questions, and help you find a journey that best suits you.

Thursday, March 11th | Mendoza College of Business
- Business Programs: The Mendoza College of Business offers a wide range of undergraduate programs, including accounting, management, and entrepreneurship.
- Hosts are eager to meet you, answer questions, and help you find a journey that best suits you.

How to find and join events:
- Use the “Join Us” dropdown. From here, you will find the most relevant and interesting events.
- Events are categorized by date, so you can find events happening on your chosen night.
- Find the “Join Us” dropdown. From here, you will find the most relevant and interesting events.

Learn more about majors, minors, and opportunities to expand learning beyond the classroom.

Click here to access the Academic Journeys Week webpages available here.

Click here to learn more!

For more information, contact us at firstyear@nd.edu.

Opt out and unsubscribe:
- To unsubscribe, please use the unsubscribe link at the bottom of this email. You can also opt out of future communications at your preferences.
- To unsubscribe, please use the unsubscribe link at the bottom of this email. You can also opt out of future communications at your preferences.